

Where's The Fire?

April 4, 2001

By Ralph Hall

More than 20 Shriners met at the New Bedford Central Fire Station 868 Pleasant Street and were met by Fire Inspector, Louie J. Luiz, Sr. who gave an interesting talk on the duties of a fireman and the workings of the department. He also gave a few hints on fire prevention in the home. Captain Michael F. Gentili then took over and explained the working tools and equipment used by the firemen. It was a two hours well spent and brought to light that the New Bedford Fire Department is a well-trained organization protecting the citizens of the Whaling City.
